Writings of Bahá'u'lláh

Le Kitáb-i-Aqdas

(The Kitáb-i-Aqdas, The Most Holy Book)

The Most Holy Book, the charter of the world civilization of tomorrow, the most important of Bahá'u'lláh's writings which contains the totality of his ordinances and his exhortations.

MÉB, 2nd ed., 1999, 328 pages (with index), 14 X 22 cm, stapled

Le livre de la certitude

(The Kitáb-i-Íqán, The Book of Certitude)

Supporting the Jewish, Christian and Muslim writings and traditions, Bahá'u'lláh explains the nature of the mission of the prophets and the fundamental unity which ties them together.

Presses universitaires de France, Paris, 4th ed., 1973, 141 pages, 13,5 X 21,5 cm, stapled

Les tablettes de Bahá'u'lláh

(Tablets of Bahá'u'lláh)

Through different epistles, Bahá'u'lláh states precepts and principles which are at the very heart of his Faith. An excellent complement to the Kitáb-i-Aqdas.

MÉB, 1994, 321 pages (with index), 14 X 22 cm, bound

Épître au fils du Loup

(Epistle to the Son of the Wolf)

Near 1890, Bahá'u'lláh sent a stern reprimand to Shaykh Mohammed Taqi, son of he who was responsible for the death of the "sultan" and the "beloved" of the martyrs, explaining to him all the good he could do for his country if he were to join him instead of fighting him.

MÉB, 2000, 214 pages (with index), 11,5 X 17,5 cm, bound or stapled

Les sept vallées & Les quatre vallées

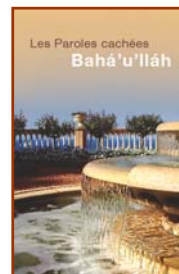

(The Seven Valleys and the Four Valleys)

The Seven Valleys are "without doubt the greatest mystical composition of Bahá'u'lláh"; in it he describes the steps of progress of a soul in search of its being. The Four valleys "shows the roads by which the invisible can be seen" (Shoghi Effendi). Introduction . New revised translation.

MÉB, 2004, 78 pages, 11 X 16,5 cm, bound or stapled

Les Paroles cachées

(Hidden Words)

In this collection of mystical poetry written in 1858, Bahá'u'lláh summarizes "with a rare conciseness the precepts held by all the great religions of the past".

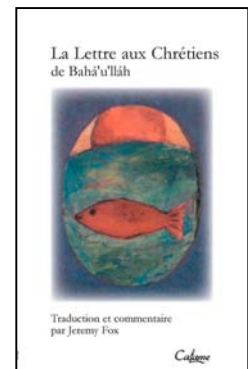

PBC, 2004 * 2010 2nd edition, 78 pages, 10,5 X 14 cm, stapled

Lettre aux chrétiens

(Letter to the Christians)

In this text addressed primarily to Christians, Bahá'u'lláh clearly establishes the link between the revelation of Christ and his own, a new step in the "faith of God, eternal in the past, eternal in the future". Commentary by Jeremy Fox making reference to the Bible to facilitate understanding of the Christian readers.

LB, 2004, 100 pages, 15 X 23 cm, stapled

L'appel du Seigneur des armées

(The Summons of the Lord of Hosts)

More than a century ago, before the degradation of the exercise of power, Bahá'u'lláh addressed historical letters to the world leaders, reminding them of their responsibilities and inviting them to renounce their personal interests, to think of nothing but those of the people in their care.

MÉB, 2004, 195 pages, 14 X 22 cm, bound or stapled

Florilège d'écrits de Bahá'u'lláh

(Gleanings from the Writings of Bahá'u'lláh)

Newly revised edition of extracts from the writings of Bahá'u'lláh.

MÉB, 2006, 266 pages, 14 X 21 cm, bound or stapled

Joyaux des mystères divins

(Gems of Divine Mysteries)

Revealed in Baghdád, these writings of Bahá'u'lláh are translated for the first time. They describe the steps of spiritual search (complementing the Seven Valleys) and introduce the notions which would be developed in the Book of Certitude.

MÉB, 2005, 79 pages, 12 X 17,5 cm, bound or stapled

Le tabernacle de l'unité

Réponse de Bahá'u'lláh à Mánikchí Sáhib et autres écrits

(The Tabernacle of Unity)

Five tablets revealed by Bahá'u'lláh for the Zoroastrian community. They present some specifics of the Bahá'í doctrine. Amongst the themes discussed : human intelligence and its limits ; religious tolerance ; Creation.

MÉB, 2007, 80 pages, 12 X 17,5 cm, bound or stapled

Writings of The Báb

Sélections des Écrits du Báb

(Selections from the Writings of the Báb)

A detailed and representative selection of the complete writings of The Báb: letters that the Báb addressed to Bahá'u'lláh, extracts of letters addressed to the Sháh and other religious leaders, extracts from the Persian Bayán, as well as prayers and meditations.

MÉB, 1984, 200 pages, 13,5 X 21,5 cm, bound or stapled

Writings of 'Abdu'l-Bahá

Le testament de 'Abdu'l-Bahá

(Will and Testament of 'Abdu'l-Bahá)

'Abdu'l-Bahá had been designated by Bahá'u'lláh as the new Centre of the Covenant between God and man. To ensure the continuity of the leadership of the world community, he wrote his testament - the charter of Bahá'í institutions - which defines clearly the relation between the Guardianship and the Universal House of Justice, and stipulates the method for electing that supreme institution.

MÉB, 1970, 55 pages, 11 X 15 cm, bound or stapled

Les bases de l'unité du monde

(Foundations of World Unity)

In his talks given during his travels through the West, from 1911 to 1913, and in his letters sent to the Occidental believers of the same period, 'Abdu'l-Bahá attempted to awaken the spirits to a new awareness of the destiny of humanity.

MÉB, 1981, 155 pages, 14,5 X 22 cm, bound or stapled

Sélections des écrits de 'Abdu'l-Bahá

(Selections from the Writings of 'Abdu'l-Bahá)

This book regroups 237 extracts of 'Abdu'l-Bahá's correspondence from the start of the xxth century until his death in 1921. Education of children, family life, marriage, the couple, health, the soul, and community life are some of the subjects presented in this selection.

MÉB, 1983, 319 pages, 14 X 22 cm, bound

'Abdu'l-Bahá à Londres

('Abdu'l-Bahá in London)

Another work which relates the words of 'Abdu'l-Bahá and summarizes what he spoke of in his talks during his time in London, in 1911.

MÉB, 1998, 120 pages, 10,8 X 17,2 cm, stapled

Les causeries de 'Abdu'l-Bahá à Paris

(Paris Talks)

In 1913, 'Abdu'l-Bahá spent more than three months in Paris. This book is a collection of fifty-five talks which he addressed to the Parisian population. The language is simple, direct and clear, and shows the constant preoccupation of 'Abdu'l-Bahá to touch their hearts.

MÉB, 1987, 210 pages, 14 X 22 cm, bound or stapled

Lettre de 'Abdu'l-Bahá au Professeur Auguste Forel

'Abdu'l-Bahá responds to Professor Forel (1848 - 1961), a well-known doctor, thinker, sociologist and philosopher in Europe. He notes the importance of work of the spirit, explains the link between the intelligence and the soul, demonstrates the relativity of knowledge according to our position in relation to the object we wish to know, and underlines the existence of an organizing principle.

MÉB, 3rd éd., 1974, 30 pages, 11 X 16,5 cm, stapled

Le secret de la civilisation divine

(The Secret of Divine Civilization)

Although this work is addressed specifically to the Persian governments of the 19th century (1875), the message remains pertinent for modern man, whether he be of the East or the West. In it 'Abdu'l-Bahá presents a historical analysis of the problems of humanity and offers solutions recommended by Bahá'u'lláh for the establishment of human civilization on a universal scale.

MÉB, 1973, 145 pages, 11 X 15,5 cm, bound

Mémorial des fidèles

(Memorials of the Faithful)

This work immortalizes the lives of 69 Bahá'ís who were the essence of loyalty [...] 'Abdu'l-Bahá says almost nothing of himself in this work, but certain events of the lives of his companions are mixed with his own, offering glimpses of the essence of humanity and humility that he was about.

MÉF, 2002, 221 pages, 14 X 21 cm, stapled

Les tablettes du plan divin

(Tablets of the Divine Plan)

✦ In the process of being republished :

14 letters written between September, 1916 and March, 1917 by 'Abdu'l-Bahá, to the Bahá'í community of the United States and Canada. Of primary significance was the role of leadership given to its recipients in establishing their Cause throughout the planet by pioneering.

✦ [...] - PBC, 2011

Writings of Shoghi Effendi

L'avènement de la justice divine

(The Advent of Divine Justice)

A letter of December 25, 1938 from Shoghi to the believers of the United States and Canada, in which he insists on the establishment of a new world order. The themes raised are: relaxed morals, political corruptions, materialism and racial prejudices.

MÉB, 1973, 119 pages, 12 X 16 cm, stapled

Dieu passe près de nous

(God Passes By)

On the occasion of the centennial of the Bahá'í Faith, Shoghi Effendi prepared a historical treaty which reviewed events which marked the world Bahá'í community, the setting-up of the administrative institutions, and the crises the community had gone through.

MÉB, 1976, 435 pages, 14 X 22 cm, bound or stapled

Appel aux nations

(Call to the Nations)

As soon as he became Guardian of the Cause (1921), Shoghi insisted on the primordial mission of the Bahá'í Faith: the establishment of divine civilization. Among the sub-themes within, one can find: the present test to humanity, the elaboration of a model for future society, some principles for a universal federation as well as a projection of the destiny of humanity.

MÉB, 1979, 57 pages, 13 X 20 cm, stapled

L'Ordre mondial de Bahá'u'lláh

(The World Order of Bahá'u'lláh)

A collection of the letters from the Guardian, which "give a clear idea of the relation which links the Bahá'í community to the process of social evolution called to develop during the course of the revelation of Bahá'u'lláh" and "endeavour to show the Bahá'í administrative order as being the centre and the model of the world civilization".

MÉB, 1993, 237 pages, 13,5 X 21,5 cm, stapled

Les principes de l'administration bahá'íe

"This book is destined for the use of assemblies, groups and individuals, as a procedure guide in the life and organic activity of the Bahá'í community." Constituted mostly of texts from Shoghi, translated and collected by the National Spiritual Assembly of the Bahá'ís of France.

Paris, 1968, 102 pages, 14 X 21 cm, stapled *while stocks last**

The Bahá'í Faith, life and society

⌘ L'abus des drogues

Un point de vue bahá'í sur la toxicomanie et l'alcoolisme

Substance Abuse, A Bahá'í Perspective

A picture of one of the most devastating phenomena of our time: drug abuse, and his horrible effects on the human spirit. The author doesn't stop at identifying the probable causes of this calamity, but suggests the methods of early prevention, thanks especially to an educative program and a reflection on the meaning of life.

A.-M. Ghadirian, PBC, 2001, 52 pages, 13,8 X 21,5 cm, stapled

⌘ La maladie d'Alzheimer

Une éclipse avant le coucher du soleil

Alzheimer' Disease : An Eclipse Before Sunset

The growing number of older people in our society and the rapid advancement in knowledge and technology in the medical field is leading to the diagnosis of a growing number of cases of Alzheimer's disease. This publication offers reflections and suggestions based on clinical observations and inspired by the teachings of the Bahá'í Faith.

A.-M. Ghadirian, PBC, 2004, 36 pages, 13,8 X 21,5 cm, stapled

⌘ Le défi du développement durable

The concepts of sustainable development and prosperity are at the foundation of longevity and success in business: in fact, the ultimate goal in business is to create prosperity within the framework of sustainable development. How can we get there?

Arthur Dahl, European Bahá'í Business Forum, 2002, 20 pages, stapled

⌘ Une preuve scientifique de l'existence de Dieu

A Scientific Proof of the Existence of God

« Nous avons montré, à partir d'un phénomène observable (l'apparition de l'être humain), que l'existence d'une cause non observable est la plus raisonnable de toutes les possibilités logiques connues. » The author

W. S. Hatcher, Association d'études bahá'ies Europe francophone, 2001, 26 pages, 14,8 X 20,8 cm, stapled

⌘ Recherche d'un projet d'éducation morale

The first part of this booklet succinctly analyses certain changes that societies the world over are going through and which constitute the context in which the new codes of morality and the systems of moral education will be elaborated.

Informations

◆ Our prices

All the prices indicated on the list are in Canadian dollars.

◆ Packing, Shipping & Handling

If your order must be sent by mail, packaging, shipping and handling fees (EPM) will be added to your invoice. Fees depend on weight and volume of the parcel, and the addressee's address.

→ To know the applicable fees for your order, please communicate with Lyne-Andrée Mathieu :

 sdbq@videotron.ca ;

 418 692-2402 (on Tuesdays only, between 10h am and 3h pm² ; on other days, voice mail).

◆ Taxes

In Canada, taxes are applied according to the purchaser's province of residence. Overseas orders are exempt of all taxes.

For our Québec clients, taxes are applied as follows:

1. The GST is applied to all items.
2. The PST is applied to all items whose price is indicated in italics in the Price List (pages 19 to 22).
3. The GST and the PST are applied to EPM fees.

◆ Methods of payment

We accept payment in cash, by cheque or money order and by credit card.

→ Please make cheque or money order out to SDB-Q and send to:

SDB-Q
75, rue d'Auteuil
Québec QC G1R 4C3 Canada
